

Girder Repair

In order to repair the girders, jacks will be placed in-between girders, next to the bearings, to raise the structure.

Although the bridge is safe to drive on, as it has aged under-performing bearings have caused damage to the girder ends. The primary girder repair work will address this damage.